You're a Hero, but not in the best of books now.....

Go for a walk, and come back, but I think you will walk away...

Your teacher has a goalkeeper, you? Always looking out for you!

You need to keep a check on that person now; they are not well, going down hill

You call them "Lord" and they know that!

Keep a Diary, you're going to look back in time and laugh. How on earth did I make it?

Well your Teacher knows why?

You need a friend and nobody wants you, talk to Warrick Capper, he's got no one either?

It's lonely at the top Go back to your Hotel, all by yourself?

Well things will change, and there will be parties. A lot of well-known people, but people you truly respect.

It's going to change?

The ball room gown looks beautiful, but she don't?

I wish you could see straight?

She is just after your money...You had to pay for everything, including her teeth!

She said, she would pay you back, but you never saw a dime.

She will get back to you at a later date, with more expenses.

You were only used, she never cared for you, even faked it on several occasions....

I think you will see through this, and walk away, about time you did? She only used you?

You're going to get her back someday. Ask for a loan and walk away laughing. Some investment,

The taxi you are riding, has everything recorded, and will go to the press, Oscar night, beware....

You will be talking about some celebrities.

No smoking, but soon there will be! Bright lights coming in Broadway, for those that smoke, everyone will be in on it, including you?

Get a lawyer, because somebody is suing you for breach of contract. You know you did wrong? But you are still taking them to court. Could not be bothered with it... Will be all over the press. You will not look good. And no work for a long time? I would think it over....?
